A GREAT ENTERPRISE

Brought to Successful Completion---Water Pipes Laid Across Burrard Inlet.

How it was Accomplished---1100 Feet of Pipe Put Down ---A Heavy Test.

Yesterday, says the Vancouver News, one of the most important parts of the system for supplying water to the city from the Capilano river was successfully carried out by the drawing across of the flexible joint pipe which is to convey the water across the Narrows. A previous attempt was made two weeks ago, but failed on account of the breaking of the principal cable.

Every precaution had been taken yesterday to ensure success. Three heavy wire cables were fastened on the pipes and four pile-drivers and one steam winch were engaged in drawing them across. One of the pile-drivers was stationed on the north side of the Narrows, the other three and the steam winch being on the south or park side. The pipes were all jointed together and were laid on sideways on the north side all ready to be drawn across.

The shore on both sides of the Narrows was a busy scene yesterday morning; the pile-drivers were snorting and puffing with every pound of steam they could carry; the contractors, Messrs. Keefer & McGillivray, were here, there and everywhere, testing fastenings and making alterations in blocks and tackles. At last all was ready and at a given signal the five steam engines started off together, the mighty hawsers to which the cables were attached stretched out like whipcord and at last, slowly but surely, the long line of pipes commenced to move steadily down the skids and across the Narrows. After 56 feet had been drawn across the engines were stopped and the tackle overhauled in order to get a fresh grip on the cables. Slowly and steadily the work went on, the line of the pipe being kept perfectly true and straight in spite of the heavy tide that was flowing through the Narrows. No stop was made for dinner, the men, who have all worked splendidly, taking as much interest in the success of the operation as the contractors and engineers themselves. At last at 7:30 p. m. the south end of the pipe reached the point to which it had to be drawn and the great risk of drawing the pipes across the Narrows was accomplished. Sceptics who had doubted the possibility of the thing, opponents of the scheme who had their own plans to further, were all at last silenced, and those men who through good report and evil report have stuck to the company and declared their belief in the practicability of the scheme have the satisfaction of knowing that their faith was not in vain and that success was now assured.

It is the intention of the engineers in charge of the operations to at once make an hydraulic test of the pipes up to 300 lbs. pressure to the square inch. A diver will also go down and walk along the line of the pipes on the bottom so as to see that all is clear. The company intend shortly to lay three more lines of 8 inch pipes across the Narrows, so that in case of any accident to any of the pipes the city may be sure of an ample supply of water. The total length of pipe drawn across yesterday was 1,104 feet of 12 inches diameter, that is between the extreme low water mark on either side. It is the intention to add 12 more lengths of flexible joint pipe on the northern end so as to bring the ends above low water mark. Among those present and to whom much credit must be given for their unshaken faith in the success of the project and for their constant endeavors to carry it out, were Mr. George A. Keefer, C.E., Mr. J. W. McFarland, Secretary of the company, Mr. H. B. Smith, C. E., the engineer of the company, Mr. Monteith and Mr. McCammon, the assistant engineers and the contractors, Messrs. H. F. Keefer and D. McGillivray.

AN INDIAN QUESTION.

How the Government Taxes the Red Man—An Unwise Policy.

You will perhaps pardon me for intruding upon your time and asking for a small space in your valuable paper to insert the following in regard to a much neglected, but at the same time a very useful and industrious class of people, our Indians of the interior of British Columbia. It is a well-known fact that the Indians of the interior, and more especially of Nicola, are, as a class, industrious, and are trying to make a good living for themselves, thereby saving the Government thousands of dollars every year. While the Northwest Indians and those in many parts of the United States have to be supported, our Government are actually deriving a benefit by collecting an indirect as well as a direct tax from them, indirectly by affording every facility for them to obtain liquor in a way that is but little thought of (or if at all but lightly) viz., by issuing liquor licenses to parties that make a practice of supplying the poor Indians, either direct or through others, well knowing that eventually the Indian gets it. Of course if there is any depredations committed by the Indians they are heavily fined; thereby indirectly supporting both the saloon-keeper and the government, and the same trap is set over and over again, instead of having it removed entirely. A direct tax is collected now in the shape of a Packer's License. If an Indian gets fore-handed enough to secure a few horses, and starts a pack train, he is immediately pounced upon by the government agent and a fee of $5 demanded for a license. So if he succeeds in passing all the deadfalls set in his way (in the shape of saloons), he is met at the end of his journey and this license business has to be attended to. Don't you think it would be much more to the credit of our government to assist and encourage in every way the efforts put forth by their wards to support themselves, than to exact every dollar they possibly can from them at every turn. Times are rather dull, and the Indians (and whites too for that matter) have hard work enough to make both ends meet at the end of the year without this unnecessary drain upon them. The country would be better off to-day if the government would give a prize to the Indians for the best equipped pack train, and tax the Chinese so heavily that they could not afford to run a train, than to place them on an equality and make the license alike for each. Surely after the Indians giving up the whole country they might have a little favor shown. It is admitted by all that while the Chinese sends nearly all his money out of the country, the Indian spends every dollar at home, and no person knows better than the old settlers do that while the Indians have money times are good, as they are bound to keep it in circulation, and have never been known to hoard it for any length of time.

Rube.

THE OLD CEMETERY.

It is Only a Word for the Auld Kirk Yard of the City.

One Sabbath after forenoon church service, I happened to pass the old burying ground, in Quadra street, and saw a number of Chinese engaged in a burning ceremony. Thousands of small slips of paper were scattered about and thousands more were piled up for the purpose of driving away evil spirits (it is said) from molesting deceased Chinese, for whom a feast of fat things, and wines on the lees, well refined, had been prepared. I was surprised at the peculiarity of the festival and the apparent earnestness which the ceremony was conducted, but what astonished me supremely was, the neglected condition of the burying ground itself, in which this ceremony took place. The superabundance and overgrowth of trees, the long withered grass, the untidy condition of the walks, the dark lonesome decayed look of the entire place, brought me in mind of the decription of ruined Babylon, where it winds up with the words "and the satyrs shall dance there." Something should be done to remedy the condition of this original burying ground. We must not allow our Christian neglects to become a byeword to the heathen, nor a reproach to the Christianity of the Queen City of the plain. Only imagine our noble Queen paying us a visit and inspecting in a Westminster Abbey of the far west. What would she think of the graves of our fathers and us, their ungrateful children. In one of Sir Walter Scott's novels, Old Mortality is represented as spending a life-time in visiting the covenanters' graves throughout broad Scotland, cleaning the moss-grown grave stones, and deepening with his chisel the simple story of how they suffered and died in the cause of civil and religious liberty. But Old Mortality never required to touch their graves. The moorland sheep kept the grass short that grows green and beautiful over them. To those who have charge of this burying ground, I would recommend a perusal of Old Mortality, and also Harvey's meditations among the tombs, and if this fails to produce reformation then let the first flock of sea sick sheep that arrive from Oregon be sent in and allowed to rest, pasture, and refresh themselves, for a few days before they are forwarded to the plains of Saanich and forests of highland district or the rocky wilds of Esquimalt.

SHOCKS OF EARTHQUAKE.

Two Felt at Osoyoos—Rocks Loosened on the Mountain Side.

Special to The Times.

New Westminster, Aug. 30—A letter received here from Captain Pittendrigh, Osoyoos, stated that two earthquakes shocks had been felt there on the 6th and 7th inst. The first shock was accompanied by a rumbling noise similar to the explosion of a magizine. It loosened rocks on the mountains which tumbled down and caused great fear among the inhabitants. The first shock lasted 30 seconds; the second shock was barely preceptible.

FROM VANCOUVER.

A Brutal Assault—The Water Main —Railway Travel, &c.

Vancouver, Aug. 29—The new schooner that is being built at Coal Harbor by Messrs. H. Mondun, J. McCarthy and H. George, of Moodyville, will be completed in about two weeks. She is intended for trading and seal fishing.

The train of 15 cars containing 5000 cases of canned salmon which was brought from the Skeena river by the Sardonyx and shipped over the C. P. R. on the 20th inst., arrived in Montreal yesterday morning after being only eight days on transit.

Yesterday's Pacific Express was very large and contained many passengers. There were two private cars, one of which contained the Hon. McKenzie Bowell, Minister of Customs and party, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Holton, Belleville; Mr. S. C. Patterson, of the Department of Customs, Ottawa; Mr. Chas. Bowell and Mr. James Johnson, editor of the Ottawa Citizen. They will be in the city for several days.

The steamship Abyssinia sailed last night for Yokohama and Hongkong with 27 cabin passengers, 3 second class passengers and 206 Chinese.

About 10:30 last night Mr. E. H. King, of the Vancouver Wine Co., was brutally attacked while walking along Cordova street, by a man named Bruno Godin, a bartender, who sprang upon him from a dark alley. Two other men seized Mr. E. Crotteau, who was walking with Mr. King, and held him while Bruno beat the former till he was rendered insensible. Assistance came and the bruised and bleeding man was carried to Dr. Robertson's office, where his wounds were speedily dressed. The police succeeded in arresting the assailant somewhat later. He was arraigned before the police magistrate this morning and remanded for a week.

Yesterday the water pipes were successfully drawn across the Narrows. Three heavy wire cables were fastened to the pipes and four pile-drivers and one steam winch were employed in drawing them across. An hydraulic test of the pipes up to 300 pounds pressure to the square inch will at once be made. It is the intention of the company to lay three more lines of 8-inch pipes across the Narrows, so that in case of accident to any of the pipes the city shall not suffer for want of a supply of water. The total length of pipe drawn across yesterday was 1,104 feet of 12 in. diameter. Twelve more lengths of flexible joint pipe is to be added to the northern end. Much credit is due the contractors, Messrs. Keefer and McGillivary, and their staff for the manner in which they have carried out this work in the face of so many obstacles, doubts and opposition.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees last evening the application of a Mr. Law, B. A., of the City of Three Rivers, Quebec, was accepted for the principalship of the public school.

TO-DAY'S DISPATCHES.

New Lighthouse for Discovery Island---Canada Copies from Uncle Sam.

Cholera in Philadelphia---Sharp Rise in Wheat---Sugar Goes Up---Accidents.

New York, Aug. 30—The Times has a long cable which estimates that the old world needs 70 to 80 million bushels of wheat more than her harvests of this year will produce. To put it in another way, the countries which always have to buy wheat must this year buy 370,000,000 bushels, while the countries raising more than they consume will have about 295,000,000 bushels to sell. The storms of the past week have greatly damaged wheat in England. The great wheat producing country of France, which it was thought a week or so ago would produce some 68,000,000 bushels, will now have it is estimated to import 80 to 95 million. Algiers cannot supply much on account of grass hoppers.

The best estimates give the surplus of the United States and Canada at 103 million, Russia ninety million, and India 35 million. But all sorts of stories are coming from Russia that are unfavorable. In London bread has come up one penny per loaf. The potato crop in England and in Ireland is a partial failure, and great distress is believed to be certain.

The Times summarising up the reports from all parts of the United States, says we have enough wheat for home consumption, but not a great deal to spare.

The motive power consists of Krebs' electric machine of 50 horse-power. Preparations are already being made for launching this formidable little vessel.

The Sealing Fleet.

The owners of the sealers in Victoria anticipate a good catch by the Behring sea fleet. Mr. Munsie, of Carne & Munsie, who are largely interested in two schooners north, expects a good catch. The fact that so many sea otter were taken shows he says that the weather has been fine and favorable for sealing.

Capt. Warren says if the sealers have not been keeping out of the way they have likely done well. Or if it should have happened that they had a good take the first part of the season they might have kept out of the sea and not have done as well as they would otherwise. All agree that everything is coming out as they expected. The fleet will probably be here within two or three weeks.

Wouldn't Lie.

Mr. Guileless—No I don't believe it. The Colonist has been established since 1858 and I don't believe an old paper like that would lie about a small matter like the school business.

Young Guileless—1858? The devil has been established longer than that.

—The Colonist's editorial on the school question has ear marks on it. It was evidently written by one of the "specials."

—As the Times has been asked if there are to be any more weddings soon it may say that it has a sample on the stocks.

A BIT OF A SCOLD.

The following communication was received from a friend in Victoria:—

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—I cannot let the occasion pass without expressing my surprise at the TIMES, which as a rule takes hold of the right end of things, advocating and supporting Sunday excursions. You surely do not mean to propose that our Sabbath shall be converted into a holiday and that instead of it being a day of rest it shall be spent in beer guzzling tournaments and riotous merry making. I am not extra straight-laced myself, but I do not take kindly to these innovations. I have no more room for this parading through the streets with bands and banners than I have for open theatres on Sunday. These things are un-British and un-Canadian and I must say again that I am surprised at you for supporting them. Your contemporaries are not better than yourself and of course they are not expected to be. As for the Colonist, since it showed its colors in the Menzies case, I have not a particle of respect for it. As you know if it had pursued the same course in any other city in England or Canada, it would have been ruined; people would simply have refused to recognize it. Not so, however, in Victoria. We are as easy going in morals as in business, and as easy going people generally "get left," I have very little hope for us either in this world or in the next, unless a change soon takes place.

Yours, &c., 1888.

Our correspondent is entirely astray in supposing that THE TIMES either supported or advocated the Sunday excursion. It is true that its local and advertising columns were used by the promoters to make the excursion known and they obtained the privilege the same as all others who are willing to pay for it. The opinion of THE TIMES respecting these matters is that everyone must settle the right or wrong of them with his or her own conscience, and as for the paper, although it may give its readers a little politics once in a while, it does not propose to give them any religion. It should be enough for "1888" to know that it will always take the side of right and morality, leaving the side of immorality and inhumanity to be championed by its morning contemporary.

PACIFIC AND ATLANTIC CABLES.

The printed report of the proceedings of the Colonial Conference held in London last year is out. The proposals laid before the conference to the directors of the Pacific telegraph company to lay a cable between this province and Australia were as follows: The Imperial and Colonial Governments shall guarantee for 25 years a subsidy of £75,000 per annum, to be paid in such proportion as might be agreed upon by them. Thirty-five days shall be allowed the company to repair any interruption in the service. The guarantee shall be suspended after the lapse of that time till communication is restored. The rate to the governments and general public shall never exceed four shillings per word from England to Australia and may be considerably reduced.

The Atlantic cable war has ended. Before it commenced the pool headed by the Western Union Telegraph charged 40 cents per word from New York to England. On the completion of the MACKAY-BENNETT cables by the Commercial Company, the new line reduced to 25 cents a word. The pool attempted to crush it and reduced from 40 cents to 12 cents. The Commercial Company maintained its rate of 25 cents and being very largely stuck to by the public the others have advanced to the same figure. The tariff on cables from September 1 via C. P. R. telegraph and Commercial Cable will be as follows:

From points in Ontario and Quebec to Great Britain, Ireland, France and Germany ..... 25c. per word
From points in Manitoba to Great Britain, Ireland, France and Germany ..... 27c. per word
From points in the Northwest Territories and British Columbia to Great Britain, Ireland, France and Germany ..... 42c. per word

These rates are considered reasonable and people cabling should not forget that for them they are indebted to the Commercial Cable Company.

THE SEALERS.

The news from Behring sea by the steamer St. Paul, which arrived at San Francisco yesterday, has given great relief to the owners of our sealing vessels. It was not believed that any seizures would take place this year, but then there is nothing like being assured of it. It is a little hard to tell sometimes what kind of a game Uncle Sam is playing, and as our sealers were grossly and wantonly entrapped last year there was no certainty that the same would not be done this year. It appears, however, that an understanding has actually been arrived at, and the telegraphic item in last evening's TIMES to the effect that jurisdiction over Behring Sea had been made the subject of negotiations between the great powers was probably correct. The settlement of the question on a basis which places all on an equal footing is of the highest importance to this province. We have here the nucleus of a sealing fleet which, considering our position and the enterprising nature of our fishermen, must quickly grow to large proportions. So far as this year is concerned the only information that is now wanting is as to the success of our schooners. As the catch of sea otter has been large it is conjectured that the weather has been fine and therefore that good hauls have been made by the sealers if they have not been keeping out of the way. They have doubtless left the sea by this time and may be expected to arrive within the next two or three weeks.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Coal is $10. It has been appropriately named "black diamonds."

Mr. W. C. Van Horne has denied the report that he is to be Knighted. Mr. Van Horne has too much sense, and certainly is too much of a democrat, to accept the empty honor.

The halfbreeds at Batoche have asked the government for compensation for the destruction of their property by the volunteers during the rebellion. They all want scrip for their children born before March, 1885.

The result of the Dominion election in Halton has decided the Liberals on running the coming contest in Cardwell on the unrestricted reciprocity issue. Laurier will take the stump in that riding the moment the date of the writ is announced.

The Minister of Justice is said to have received telegrams from all parts of Canada congratulating him on receiving the honor of knighthood. If the names of those who sent the telegrams were published, they would be found to be from those who have a lively sense of favors to come. Certainly there was not one honest and sincere congratulation for every score or two of interested ones.

The Indian Act of infranchisement has been extended to the band of Chief John Smith, whose reserve is situated on the right bank of the south branch of the Saskatchewan; the band of James Seenum or Pecan, whose reserve is situated southwest and north of Whitefish Lake, which is within the territory covered by treaty No. 6; the band of Headman Grambler, whose reserve is situated on the east bank of the Assiniboine and Silver Creek, being within the territory covered by treaty No. 2 in Manitoba.

It is reported from London, Eng., that the emigration this year to Canada from England, Ireland and Scotland, is twenty-five per cent greater than last year. A great many of the emigrants have been those going directly to land either as proprietors or laborers. The agents in all parts of the Kingdom received early in the season official intimation regarding undesirable emigration. The results seem to show that they have succeeded as far as possible under present circumstances. The cessation of assisted passengers is not generally regarded with disfavor, and it is believed that it has tended to discourage incompetent emigrants. The great mass of the emigrants go to the Northwest; Ontario appears to come next, followed by British Columbia. The eastern townships and Maritime Provinces come last. The Crofter settlement in Manitoba is the chief feature of the Scotch emigration, the favorable reports coming from the Crofters now there having had an excellent influence. All the correspondents agree that if active practical measures are continued there is every reason to expect an excellent season next year.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

The Board of Aldermen met last evening at 8 o'clock. Present: Mayor Grant and Alds. Penwill, Harris, Vigelius, Styles, Wilson, Kelly, Coughlan and Powell.

Minutes of last meeting were read and adopted.

GARNISHEE SUMMONS.

The clerk reported that he had been served with a garnishee summons against J. Haggarty. Referred to the City Barrister.

COMMUNICATIONS

were read from D. R. and R. J. Kerr, asking for a sidewalk on Discovery street in front of their new residence. Referred to Street Committee.

From H. F. Heisterman & Co., complaining of the disgraceful state of a gutter on Douglas street, endangering the health of people in the locality. Referred to Street Committee.

From Thos. Catterall, asking for use of portion of street for building purposes. Granted.

From S. P. Mills, on behalf of R. Beauchamp, whose daughter had sustained injuries by being thrown from a wagon, and claiming compensation for the injuries she sustained and loss of her services in the store; if the Council were prepared to amicably settle the matter Mr. Beauchamp would accept the sum of $350 for all claims. Referred to the City Barrister for consideration.

From Elford & Smith, applying for use of Fort street for building purposes. Granted.

From James Bendreth, applying for use of street for building purposes. Granted.

From W. S. Gore, stating that as the Government propose to lay a concrete walk around the new court house, the city should take up the old wooden walks and asking for the use of Jumbo to prepare the ground. Communication received and request granted.

From Hon. H. P. P. Crease calling attention to some pieces of rock which impede the gutter in front of his property on Fort street. Referred to Street Committee with power to act.

From Helen J. Knight asking for a passage to England for herself and child. She complained of the ill-treatment she received from her husband, and said she was in danger of her life. The communication was received and filed.

From H. J. Heritage, asking for use of street for building purposes. Granted.

From Wilson Bros., asking for payment of sundry accounts for valves.

Ald. Coughlan said these valves had never been delivered and that it was the custom to pay for them as they were received. All the valves purchased by the city were tested by a pressure of 200 lbs to the square inch. Those supplied by Messrs. Wilson Bros. would not be taken over until put under that test.

Ald. Wilson—It is alleged by Ald. Coughlan that the Albion Iron Works charges only $20 for the same valve. These valves were ordered by a previous council, and the same price is charged for them as was paid to the Albion Iron Works for the same kind of an article. A different kind is being ordered now and I think in all justice the bill should be paid. Communication received and filed.

From J. D. Pemberton calling the attention of the council to the forest of telegraph, telephone and electric light poles on Fort street which interfered with building operations.

Ald. Styles said his attention had been called to the tottering state of an electric light pole corner Rae and Blanchard streets.

His Worship—No doubt that eventually these wires will have to be cabled but if that were insisted on now the probability is that we would not have them. Referred to Electric Light Committee.

From eight ratepayers calling attention to the water supply on Oswego and Simcoe streets.

His Worship said people would have to try and be patient as the capabilities of the service were fully taxed and the demand was ever increasing. Referred to the Water Committee.

From O. Hastings asking for a sewer pipe on Chatham street. Referred to the Drainage Committee.

From Thos. H. Baker, secretary of the baseball club, asking for a donation to send a team to the Kamloops tournament and giving as a reason for asking the request that the citizens of Victoria had been many times entertained free of charge at games on Beacon Hill.

On motion of Ald. Harris, seconded by Ald. Powell, it was resolved to inform the petitioners that the Council had no money for this purpose.

From W. C. S. Seeley asking permission to raise the sidewalk at James Bay bridge. Referred to the Street Committee.

From Shore & Anderson asking permission to make a trap door in the sidewalk. Referred to Street Committee.

From Michael Drake asking that a sidewalk be removed from his lot on Kane street as he was about to build. Referred to Street Committee.

THE CITY AUDIT.

Ald. Penwill moved the first reading of a by-law to pay for the audit of the city accounts.

ALD. KELLY'S BONUSES.

Ald. Kelly wished to withdraw a motion respecting bonuses which he had only put forward as a feeler and to see what Victoria was made of. He now desired to substitute it with one providing that $50,000 be granted to the company first giving Victoria connection by rail with the eastern cities.

PUBLIC MORALS.

Ald. Wilson gave notice that he would introduce a by-law to regulate public morals in the city of Victoria.

UNIFORMS.

Mr. Clerk notified the Council that the contract for the winter uniforms for the police had been let to Gilmore & McCandless.

DEBENTURES.

The Council were also notified that the whole of the city debentures bearing 5 per cent. interest had been sold for 101½, payable in Victoria and the debentures returnable in Victoria. The Council approved of the action.

His Worship said that before the sitting of the next session of the Legislature, in his opinion, the Council ought to consider the statutory law governing the borrowing of money for corporate purposes. As the law is at present, when the corporation borrows money for any purpose a sinking fund must be provided for as well as the payment of interest. That sinking fund at the best will not return more than 3 per cent per annum; and if money becomes plenty here, as in the east, it may not bring more than 2 per cent., so that it will be at once seen that it is a matter of borrowing money at 5 per cent. and investing it at 3 per cent. at most, which is an evident waste. Governments and cities in other parts of the world are now issuing bonds or debentures without any stated time of payment, with the power to call them in when a government or corporation have money to pay for them. It is acknowledged and advanced by prominent financiers that the sinking fund principal is a waste of the people's cash, and ought not to be followed by any community in good financial standing, and I believe none are in a better position than this city of Victoria.

WATER PIPES.

From the water commissioner, naming the right of way required for laying the new water main. Referred to the Water Committee and Commissioner to confer with the parties through whose property the line passes.

REPORT.

The Street Committee reported recommending that the application of W. G. Cameron to place a sign on the sidewalk in front of his store, Johnson street, be not granted; that a box drain be placed on Hillside avenue between First and Douglas streets, and that a box drain be placed on the south side of Michigan street from Beacon Hill Park to Birdcage walk. Adopted.

INDIAN FINES.

His Worship reported on behalf of the committee appointed to confer with the government in regard to the province receiving a moiety of the fines collected from Indian offenders. The government he intimated were willing that the matter should remain in abeyance till next session of the legislature when legislation could be introduced to cover the matter. The committee had pointed out that the city was put to considerable expense with the Indians, but the province could not agree to admit the whole of the fines to the corporation till action of the legislature was obtained.

Council adjourned.

A Common Cold

Is often the beginning of serious affections of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes, and Lungs. Therefore, the importance of early and effective treatment cannot be overestimated. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral may always be relied upon for the speedy cure of a Cold or Cough.

Last January I was attacked with a severe Cold, which, by neglect and frequent exposures, became worse, finally settling on my lungs. A terrible cough soon followed, accompanied by pains in the chest, from which I suffered intensely. After trying various remedies, without obtaining relief, I commenced taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was Speedily Cured.

I am satisfied that this remedy saved my life.—Jno. Webster, Pawtucket, R. I.

I contracted a severe cold, which suddenly developed into Pneumonia, presenting dangerous and obstinate symptoms. My physician ordered the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. His instructions were followed, and the result was a rapid and permanent cure.—H. E. Stimpson, Rogers Prairie, Tex.

Two years ago I suffered from a Severe Cold, which settled on my Lungs. I consulted various physicians, and took the medicines they prescribed, but received only temporary relief. A friend induced me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking two bottles of this medicine I was cured. Since then I have given the Pectoral to my children, and consider it for Colds, Coughs, and all Throat and Lung diseases, ever used in my family.—Robert Vanderpool, Meadville, Pa.

Some time ago I took a slight Cold, which, being neglected, grew worse, and settled on my Lungs. I had a hacking cough, and was very weak. Those who knew me best considered my life to be in great danger. I continued to suffer until I commenced using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Less than one bottle of this valuable medicine cured me, and I feel that I owe the preservation of my life to its curative powers.—Mrs. Ann Lockwood, Akron, New York.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is considered, here, the one great remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs, and is more in demand than any other medicine of its class.—J. F. Roberts, Magnolia, Ark. ††

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

The Protection Agitation in Spain Bids Fair to Succeed.

London, Aug. 29—The protection agitation, which has for some time past prevailed throughout the greater part of Spain bids fair to succeed. Arrangements have been made for an immense meeting of farmers, or borgas, within a short time, at which 15,000 delegates, representing the agricultural industry in every part of Spain, will be in attendance. This will be the largest representative meeting of its kind ever held in Spain. The reaction in favor of high protection has become so widespread that when the existing commercial treaties are renewed in 1892, protective modifications will be inevitable.

THE FUR CATCH.

San Francisco, Aug. 29—Capt. Estaine, of the steamer St. Paul, which arrived this afternoon, brought news of a very successful season for the hunting fleet in Alaskan waters. The schooner Helen Blahm, 150 otter skins; the Otter, 90 skins; the Vanderbilt, 90 skins; the San Jose, 7 skins; the Osfowler, 4 skins. The report is only to July 1st. The cargo of the Helen Blahm, as reported, is considered to be worth fully $30,000(?) The St. Paul brought down 100,000 seal skins.

According to advices the British schooners have been permitted to seal without molestation from the United States revenue cutters, and next season the sea will undoubtedly be over-run with a fleet of swift sailing sealing schooners, fitted out at Victoria.

CROCKER'S WILL.

San Francisco, Aug. 29—The will of the late Charles Crocker was filed for probate this afternoon. He values the estate at $25,000,000. One-half is bequeathed to his wife; the rest go to the children.

STATE PROCEEDINGS.

Washington, Aug. 28—In the Senate to-day Regan introduced a bill to place imported jute bagging on the free list. He said the object of the bill was to break up the cotton bagging trusts. The bill was referred to the committee on finance.

Steward offered a resolution calling on the secretary of the interior for information concerning the land suits, and patents and timber depredations, which, after criticism by Morgan that it was an attempt to bring up all the land business of the department for several years, went over without action. Consideration of the conference report on the sundry civil service appropriation bills was then resumed. Gorman made a strong speech in defence of the administration against the charges of extravagance. The conference report was agreed to. Mr. George spoke upon the fisheries dispute. He said "there were wrongs committed by Canada against the United States for which the act of 1887 could not be put in force, and one of these wrongs was in regard to the inequality of tolls on Canadian canals. The President's recommendation in that respect had to be adopted, or else the claim for the equality of tolls on Canadian canals had to be abandoned." Mr. Frye inquired whether Canadian vessels could not be kept out of the Sault Ste. Marie canal or tolls imposed upon them. Mr. George did not know of any reason to the contrary, but such little partial retaliation would amount to nothing under the act of March 3rd, 1887. The President could not deny the right of transit over American territory to goods going from foreign countries to Canada, or to goods going from Canada through the United States intended for foreign countries. Adjourned.

IRISH AFFAIRS.

Dublin, Aug. 29—The Cork band which has been in attendance at the Irish exhibition in London, and which gained notoriety by refusing to play "God Save the Queen," returned to Cork to-day. An ovation was given the band at Queenstown and Cork. The band on board the English war ship in Queenstown harbor played "God Save the Queen," as the Irishmen passed, but the latter struck up "God Save Ireland," and drowned their opponent's music.

A force of soldiers and police evicted families from the estate of Lord Clanricarde and Woodford to-day. An aged sick woman was dragged from her house and placed on the roadside. English visitors to Woodford who witnessed the evictions carried the woman to a place of shelter and expressed their feelings in strong language. Ten persons were arrested for resistance and interference.

The Parnell defence fund received subscriptions amounting to £100 at Waterford to day.

London, Aug. 29—Mr. Gladstone has written an article for the Nineteenth Century entitled "Mr. Forster and Ireland," in which he declares that his aim is to place early before the world the episode of Parnell's release from Kilmainham jail. The whole responsibility rested upon Forster, who imposed the conditions upon which he believed that suspects might safely be released, the chief condition being that if released they would not attempt intimidation. Parnell, Gladstone says, gave even more specific promises, yet to his (Gladstone's) utter amazement, Forster declares that the pledges given were an insufficient reason for Forster's resignation, which remains to this day an unsolved riddle; but the government had no option except the release of Parnell, having undertaken to do so.

DERVISHES DEFEATED

Cairo, Aug. 29—A party of Dervishes, numbering 500, recently attacked an Egyptian fort near Wady Halfa, capturing a portion of the works. Reinforcements arrived from Wady Halfa and the Egyptians repulsed the Dervishes, killing 100 of them. The Egyptian loss was 16 killed and 27 wounded.

DEMAND ON THE PORTE.

Constantinople, Aug. 29—A demand to sign the Suez Canal convention has been made upon the Porte by English and French ambassadors here. The Porte is reminded that all the great powers have already agreed to the convention.

An Explanation.

What is this "nervous trouble" with which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word Malaria was comparatively unknown—to-day it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is with nervous diseases, as they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called Biliousness, and all are caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the Liver which in performing its functions finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channel is compelled to pass it off through the system, causing nervous troubles, Malaria, Bilious Fever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. We recommend Green's August Flower. Its cures are marvelous. *

PART I.

THE MYSTERIOUS PACKAGE.

There is not a class of men in the world who possess such a horror of police and prisons, and regard with such veneration and respect the law and its oftentimes mysterious workings as "those who go down to the sea in ships," and although they often find themselves "fouled" in its meshes, it is generally due to accident, or the machinations of some "land shark;" or perhaps, in dealing with unprincipled people "along shore," the sailor may be unwittingly caught in the net spread to ensnare him.

Although the mariner may be a veritable giant when upon the broad, trackless ocean, he is a mere child if placed among men who have received their training upon terra firma; and the simplicity of the sailor is often the cause of his being arraigned before the bar of justice.

It is very seldom that one will find a seaman deliberately committing a deed which will lay himself liable to arrest, and when such a case is met with it will almost invariably be found that the act was done to assist a friend or shield a comrade from the consequences of some misdeed.

A few years ago, shortly after the capture of Capt. Frye and crew of the American steamer Virginius, and the subsequent execution of a part of the same by the Cuban authorities, I became entangled with the Spanish soldiers of the beautiful tropic isle of Cuba, and my acquaintance with them came very near putting an end to my voyage of life.

I was a master of a trim little bark sailing from Boston and engaged in the West India trade.

One evening while the vessel was lying at a wharf in the latter port, where she was receiving cargo for Matanzas, I was sitting upon the quarter rail enjoying an after-supper smoke when I observed a young man of perhaps 25 years of age coming down the dock very leisurely.

As he got abreast of where I was seated he stopped and with a very affable smile bade me "good evening" and then inquired if we were not bound to the West Indies. Assuring him that we were, he stepped aboard, remarking that he belonged in Cuba and was looking for a vessel in which to take passage.

I rather liked the appearance of the stranger, and seeing a chance to make a few dollars for my owners by taking a passenger, as we had plenty of room in the cabin, I offered to take him and we soon agreed upon terms, the stranger promising to give me fifty dollars in the morning for his passage to the island.

The following day, while sipping coffee in company with the mate, I was surprised to see our prospective passenger with a small valise in hand hurrying down the wharf.

There was no one about, as the hour was quite early.

He stepped quickly on board, and with the utmost politeness bid me a very "Good morning." After partaking of a cup of coffee with us I invited him below and showed him the room he was to occupy during the passage.

He was very well satisfied with the accommodations, and taking out a well filled wallet he paid me the price agreed upon, then and there.

"This bag," he remarked, indicating the small sachel in his hand, "contains some articles of value, and I should be well pleased if you would take care of it for me until we reach Matanzas."

Of course I was perfectly willing to accommodate him, and took the bag; he then went ashore, promising to be on board in the evening, as we were going to sea the following morning.

When left alone I turned my attention to the bag, which was still in my hand; it was small and neat, and, I judged, quite an expensive affair.

Turning it over, I observed an address painted in white letters upon the bottom; it read: "Senor Roderiquez Gonzales, 13 Plaza di Poco, Matanzas, Cuba."

The Plaza di Poco I knew quite well, as I had been many times to Matanzas and had roamed considerably about the city.

It was a pleasant little open square, surrounded by the homes of the middle class, most of whom were native born Cubans.

However, I had not not much time to spend with the bag, so I threw it into my bunk and closed and locked the stateroom door before going ashore.

A master of a vessel is always very busy on the day before sailing, as there is sure to be a great deal of business to attend to, and my passenger never entered my mind but once, and that was when I went to "clear" at the custom house.

It was quite late when I returned to the vessel, and on entering my room the presence of the bag reminded me of the Cuban, so calling the mate I inquired if the stranger had yet come aboard.

"No, sir, I've seen nothing of him," was the officer's reply.

In the morning everything was bustling and active. The crew were aboard and the towboat alongside shortly after daylight, but nothing had yet been seen of our passenger.

The pilot and the captain of the tug were anxious to start, but I was bound to wait until the last moment to give the young fellow a chance.

Soon our overtaxed patience was rewarded. A hack dashed down the wharf and drew up at the vessel's side.

It was not the Cuban who alighted, however, but a telegraph boy waving a dispatch in his hand and calling for "Capt. Graham, bark Rambler."

"Here, boy, here!" I cried, jumping into the mizzen channels to reach the message, which I quickly tore open and read:

"Capt. Graham, bark Rambler, Constitution wharf, Boston.

"Through unforeseen circumstances it will be impossible for me to make the passage with you. Please deliver the little bag I left to the address upon it, and retain the money I paid you for your trouble. GONZALEZ."

Hastily thrusting the bit of paper into my pocket, I called to the pilot, "All right, pilot, let her go"—and in a few moments we were heading down the harbor, the tow boat puffing away alongside, while the crew were rapidly spreading the white canvas to catch the strong westerly wind that was to give us a good start upon our voyage, and, as may be supposed, there was no thought of the Cuban left behind.

The passage down to the island was without event and we came to anchor in Mantanzas after a run of eighteen days.

We were, of course, boarded by the full force of Cuban officials—revenue, military and naval—and after a close scrutiny of our papers and a rigid search of the bark I was allowed to go ashore to report to the consignees and "enter" the vessel.

I had not thought it necessary to inform the customs authorities of the Cuban's trust, as I felt assured that I could any time during our stay in port deliver it to the address and no one would be the wiser.

It is true that the officers looked at me very queerly when I explained the absence of the passenger whose name was on the manifest, but as he had not been found on board the vessel, they were obliged to accept [illegible] I noticed that my movements were more closely watched than they had ever before been; they even went so far as to place, beside the regular custom house officer, a soldier of the army on board the vessel.

This strict surveillance did not at all please me, and I was now determined to deliver the bag to No. 13 Plaza di Poco in spite of all the Spaniards on the island.

I fully realized that it would be no easy matter to get the bag out of the vessel without the officers detecting me, although it was but a small parcel.

I watched my chance, however, and one day it came.

Several American captains, whose vessels were in port, had made up a party to visit the renowned Crystal cave, that lies upon the eastern side of the Bay of Matanzas. Of course each one must carry some refreshments for themselves and their boat's crew, and here I saw an opportunity to smuggle the bag ashore.

Accordingly, the night before the picnic, I spoke to the officers over a glass of brandy which I put out for their special benefit, and requested permission to take some eatables ashore the next day.

They gave their consent without hesitation, and I at once called the steward to pack up his "dog basket" with provisions and drinkables, and purposely had him make a display of doing this before the officials, as I wanted them to see everything that went into the basket.

After it was full we left it on the cabin table ready for the morning, as we were to start by daylight.

Along the middle of the night, when I was sure that everything was quiet, I turned out, and, scouring the basket, hurried back to my room, where I removed some of the food and put the Cuban's bag in its stead and again returned the basket to the cabin table.

All the time I could hear the footsteps of the officer who was on watch pacing the dock overhead, but as there was no light in the cabin I had no fear of being detected.

In the morning everything worked as I had expected; I went over into the boat in which were two of my men, and the steward handed down the basket; waving an adieu to the officers we pulled away across the bay.

When well over to the eastern shore I took the bag out of the basket and changed the course of the boat so as to land on the outskirts of the city.

Reaching the shore I instructed my men to pull for the cave, where they would meet the other captains and deliver the basket to them, and say that "business had called me to town, but I would join them some time during the day."

A few minutes later I was seated in a volante (Cuban carriage) and was being driven slowly (a Cuban team will never travel fast) in the direction of the Plaza di Poco.

Turning into the square, in the center of which were growing rare and beautiful plants, I observed several policemen and Spanish soldiers lounging about, but as one cannot take fifty steps in any Cuban city without meeting one or more of these servants of the crown, I paid but little attention to their presence.

I, however, ordered the carriage to stop several doors from the house of which I was in search, and, after dismissing the driver, I proceeded on foot.

Number thirteen differed little from its neighbors save an unusual air of quiet by which it seemed to be surrounded; it had the same large iron gateway leading into the inclosed area peculiar to all Cuban houses; the same long, barred, open windows, but, like the majority, those were furnished with close blinds, which effectually precluded the passerby from obtaining the slightest glimpse of the interior of the dwelling.

Approaching the gate I rapped loudly with the ponderous knocker and my summons was quickly answered by an old man who took in my whole dimensions before dropping the fastenings of the gate, and then not until I had repeated the name of Roderiques Gonzales; 13 Plaza di Poco, several times.

Finally, appearing satisfied that I had a right to call, he opened the gate just far enough for me to squeeze in, and then, after again securing the fastenings, he led the way across a paved court, in the center of which was playing a miniature fountain, into a large, cool room, and from thence into another which was quite dark, but as my eyes became accustomed to the gloom I could see that it was a chamber nicely furnished, and upon a couch in the middle of the apartment was the outline of a recumbent form which started up at our approach.

CHEAP JEWELLERY.

A Young Man With His Pockets Full of Valuables.

This morning about nine o'clock a fellow, who arrived in the city last night from Portland, paid a visit to Uncle Aaronson, Johnson street, and offered a highly embossed brooch made out of a $20 gold piece with a diamond in the centre, for sale. The wiley uncle in a fatherly way, knowing the ways of youth, asked if there was any more of the kind on hand. The verdant youth thereon produced a quantity of rings, bracelets, watches and chains, brooches, pins, etc., and offered the lot to the uncle for $20, worth at lowest estimation $300! Uncle A. fearing this, the greenest of green young men, might fall into bad company with so many valuables in his possession, handed him over to the tender care of Superintendent Bloomfield, for safe keeping till his friends on the other side were heard from. On searching the young man at the Police Station, a number of pocket books, all containing large sums of money, were also found. The young chap was evidently well provided for his tour in Canada.

DELTA NEWS

The Crops—Hay Two and a Half Tons to the Acre—The Fisheries, etc.

The fine weather for the past month has afforded farmers a good opportunity to gather in the harvest. The hay is all now secure and the crop will average about 2½ tons per acre. The farmers are kept busy baleing and the steamer Richmond busily engaged in carrying it to Vancouver. The oats are now being gathered and considerable of threshing has been already done. The grasshoppers have somewhat effected the yield in many instances which upon the average will not perhaps exceed a ton to the acre.

The fishing season has about closed and most of the Siwashes have departed for the Sound to engage in the hop-picking.

Mr. T. R. Pearson, agent for the Confederation Life Insurance, has been doing the district during the past week, and has met with very encouraging success.

The people of the North Arm are now in ecstacies as they are to have a tri-weekly mail via Vancouver. This will supply a long felt want and be highly appreciated by the settlers.

Crops in Saanich.

Mr. J. Sluggett reports the crops in Saanich this year as very heavy, considerably more than an average. Farmers are at present busy saving the grain, a large quantity being now cut and housed. The oats will average about 50 bushels to the acre; wheat 30 bushels, and barley 30 to 40. Potatoes will yield a large return and other roots the same. Fruit of all kinds will also give a bountiful crop.

Four Babies.

A Polish woman by the name of Ceislack, wife of a laborer on the Ohio coal docks, living on the western outskirts of Duluth, last week, gave birth to quadruplets, two boys and two girls. She was attended by neighbors, no physician being present. The children, while small, are all well formed and seemingly healthy, and both they and the mother are doing well. The girls weigh four and three-fourths and six and one-fourth pounds and the boys five and a half and five pounds respectively. Neighboring women have taken charge of three of the babes until the mother is able to care for them. Mrs. Ceislack has given birth to three children, on one occasion to twins.

Sir George Stephen.

The election of Sir George Stephen to honorary membership in the St. Andrew's Society, of Toronto, and Sir George's neat little reply published in yesterday's Globe, form an exchange of courtesies in which all Scotchmen can delight. The Canadian Pacific Railway has been a peculiarly Scottish enterprise. Sir George's principal colleagues—Sir Donald Smith, Mr. Duncan McIntyre, Mr. R. B. Angus—are Scotch of the Scotch, and it was the courage and dash of these four that were principally instrumental in carrying their immense work to completion. Whatever we may think of the policy of rushing to the Pacific or of the legislation by which that policy was carried out, every Canadian stands several inches higher in his own estimation, and in the estimation of the world because of the unparalleled work of which these four Scotchmen were the living spirit. Sir George himself is worthy of a place in the front rank of noble Scotchmen. His is that keen foresight, that executive force, that restless energy and indomitable perseverence before which all obstructions wither away. The Scotchmen of Toronto have honored themselves by inscribing his name on the honor roll of their national society.—Globe.

OUR TOWN MAJOR.

Yates Street Shooting—City Council—Signs of Improvement.

You see the Major was right the other day when he said Louis Peterson could do things with impunity. Louis's next exploit will astonish, not only the public, but also the awful presence. When a rowdy armed with a loaded revolver, drunk with whiskey and blackguardism, can deliberately walk on one of our leading thoroughfares on a Saturday evening, when the said thoroughfares are most crowded, and fire off a revolver loaded with leaden bullets, shoot through windows and past the ears of peaceable citizens, with impunity, then has rowdyism become rampant. It was clearly proved that this prince of good fellows performed the above sublime feat for the enlightenment of Saturday evening's promenaders, all in a devil-may-care, harum-scarum kind of way, as much as to say, "I'm the boy; I'll do what I please. I can drive horses to death, so I can shoot where I please. What care I? My fines will be paid although I've no money and am only a poor sailor man, but I've friends, you bet." Only $25 for the performance of such blackguardism! But that is not the worst. The evidence tended to shield the prisoner, and only for the straightforwardness of young Perkins, this paragon of innocent diversion would have gone off scot free. Here we have a prince of rowdies deliberately and with impunity setting the laws of the land at defiance, for what is $25 to the gang? He escapes from one serious charge and rewards the clemency of the authorities by doing a little harmless shooting on a Saturday evening! Where is the public prosecutor or Attorney-General? Why was not this model fellow charged yesterday with carrying fire arms, &c., under the criminal act, instead of being brought up before the city magistrate for merely the breach of a city by-law? Victoria, ever since the Major has had the pleasure of her acquaintance, has always been found orderly. He has often spoken of the good behaviour of her crowds. Keep up your good name, and let blackguards know that they can't commit acts of rowdyism with impunity. Surety for keeping the peace was spoken of, but not insisted on and Mr. Louis Peterson, encouraged by the friendly ways of the court and the authorities, might well join in the general snicker. It clearly shows that there is "something rotten in the State of Denmark," and that "Richard's himself again." Only wait till the gentle Louis has the pleasure and opportunity of paying his respects at Court. He'll astonish the crowd or else the Major is mistaken.

The City Council touched on nearly all of the Major's suggestions. They said nothing about the open sewers. But they have made up for the neglect by granting leave for the introduction of Alderman Wilson's by-law on public morals. This is a step in the right direction, thanks to the awakening caused by the Pandora street thunders and the pen of the Major. Who dare deny it? The best intentions may be thwarted by jealousy, and so may a public moral by-law.

The Major joins with the Colonist man in the cry of pull down the verandahs. If you do, plant shade trees. This has been referred to before. Any other little suggestions to make my friend? It is near time you did something. But better late than never. This may be looked upon as a sign of THE TIMES even softening the hardness of the Colonist man's heart, and he may yet forsake the ways that are dark for the paths that are right. The dying thief received forgiveness in his day, and why not the Colonist man?

THE TOWN MAJOR.

THE AWFUL PRESENCE.

(City Police Magistrate Richards, Q. C.)

Sookey, an Indian, charged with being intoxicated, pleaded guilty. In answer to a query from His Worship, he said he thought he could pay $5.

James Welch, of Seattle, U. S., stood charged with bringing stolen goods into Canada. James is the young man that offered Uncle Aaronson such a good bargain in jewellery this morning. He looks like an innocent, hard working young fellow, and evidently felt his position keenly. There were tears in his restless eyes, which wandered all over, and a nervous twitching of his mouth indicated as much.

Supt. Bloomfield asked for a remand till Monday which was granted.

Mr. Chin Ghee, of Fisgard street, stood charged with obstructing officer No. 3 in the execution of his duty.

Mr. Walls, (although boycotted by the Chinese) defended, and pleaded not guilty.

Officer No. 3, sworn, stated: Last night about 9:30 was on duty on Fisgard street, and heard a noise in a gambling house. Defendant, who was standing on the sidewalk, pushed him as he attempted to enter the gambling den. Arrested him and locked him up.

Cross examined—Was not in uniform, but had badge on; defendant knew witness. Had badge on inside coat; arrested defendant at the door of his own house; had been often in house before; did not show badge; had his beard on (laughter); badge was not under witness's beard.

His Worship wanted evidence of the house being a gambling house.

Mr. Walls said he had no charge to answer. There was no evidence of obstruction. The defendant was at his own private house. The officer might have as well tried to enter some of our judges' houses or the clubs. Constables have no authority to enter the house. Gambling is carried on to a large extent in almost every private house, and this the officers well know.

His Worship remanded the case till Monday.

Ah Chow, stood charged with assault with intent on his fellow-countryman Ah Sing. Prisoner requested to be remanded till to-morrow. Granted. Mr. Walls appeared for the prosecution.

Knights of Pythias.

On Saturday last a lodge of the order of Knights of Pythias was instituted at the progressive settlement of Comox, by H. F. Beecher, Esq., and others of Port Townsend. Forty charter members were enrolled, twenty-four of whom were initiated. Proceedings opened at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, and closed at at 7 o'clock Sunday morning. During the session the visitors were entertained by mine host of the Elk Hotel, Mr. G. G. McDonald, at a magnificent banquet. The following officers of the new Lodge were installed: P. Scharschmidt, C. C.; W. Robb, V. C.; S. Tompkins, Prelate; J. McPhee, K. of R. and S.; W. Manson, M. of F.; T. Beckingsell, M. of E; J. W. McKenzie, M. of A. The lodge will erect a large two storey building, the ground floor to be used as stores and the second floor as a hall.

Quesnelle Quartz Mining Co.

The directors of the Quesnelle Quartz Mining Co., at last general meeting on 19th July last, reported that they could not transact any business owing to the lack of attendance of the shareholders. The report further intimates that certain drifts had been run at the 150-foot level with satisfactory results and on the 7th March, 1887, the main shaft had been to a depth of 167 feet from the surface. It is now 200 feet from the surface. The work on the mine was closed down on 15th November last, owing to the expected road from Quesnelle to Hixon Creek not having been made by the government, thus preventing the transport of supplies in winter.

There being no quorum in the directorate from March till July last year no assessment could be legally levied, so that liabilities for work performed and for necessary supplies had to be incurred to the amount of $1,183 63. The directors have consequently levied one cent per share for the purpose of paying off that amount, and also leave a sufficiency in hand to enable a quantity of ore being sent from the mine to the proposed government reduction works at Barkerville. The result will determine further proceedings. The property of the company is well housed, and work can be resumed at any time when men and supplies can be got in. No cost has been incurred since the closing of the mine, except that regarding the assessment. All the drifts are in vein matter carrying a large percentage of sulphurets.

SPORTING NEWS.

The Request of the Baseball Club for a Donation.

The following is the full text of the communication sent to the Board of Aldermen last evening in reference to the Kamloops tournament. Prominent citizens have interested themselves in the matter, and it is hoped that, notwithstanding the inability of the Board of Aldermen to assist, their efforts will meet with success:

VICTORIA, 29th Aug., 1888.

To His Worship the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Victoria:

GENTLEMEN—I have the honor, on behalf of the Amity Baseball Club of this city, to draw the attention of your board to the baseball tournament proposed to be held at Kamloops on the 17th September next and following days, and to request that some assistance be given to the club to enable them to send a team to represent Victoria in the tournament. The cities of Vancouver and New Westminster will be represented, as well as as other places both east and west of Kamloops, and we are of opinion that your Board will concede that, as a matter of public policy, Victoria should not be left out, as many advantages in the way of advertising the city, &c., will doubtless be the result. The expenses attached to sending a team as proposed will amount to $300, an expenditure which the members of the club are not prepared to face, and in view of the fact that they have, at their own expense, arranged and played several games with outside clubs this year, for the public benefit, some encouragement should be given them to uphold the prestige of Victoria against Eastern Canadian points. Your favorable consideration of this matter is therefore humbly requested. I have the honor to be, gentlemen, your obedient servant, THOS. H. BAKER, Sec.

M'AULIFFE-CONLEY.

SOME QUESTIONS.

An Editorial Query Column a la the "Standard."

DEAR SIR—Would you please tell me who was the celebrated Mickey Meehan, and oblige. MOLLY.

698 Pandora Street.

Answer.—Mickey was well-known about 40 years ago in the neighborhood of Drumshambo. He lived near Nocketchythayawn Chapel, on the side of the mountain near the bog hole. He was a pig jobber, and the best judge of a "slip" from there to Ballaghaderring. Thigum thugh!

DEAR MR. EDITOR—Do you know anything (of course you're supposed to) about the upas tree.

Yours delightfully, POLLY.

Answer—The upas tree of Ethiopia and Borneo THE TIMES knows nothing about. It is said to poison the atmosphere for miles around, and is known to botanists as Urianus Collycholoygally Colonistiam Standardium, owing to its destructive qualities on moral life. Polly should apply to either of our city contemps, as they are in a position to know all about it.

MR. EDITOR—How do you eat Ozone, and at what time should it be eaten at table? Yours lovingly, ROSA, Y. W.

Answer—Ozone is a flimsy compound of hydrogen and oxygen, and should be eaten immediately after a hot plate of soup. Ozone, to be digestable and healthy, must be secured in the neighborhood of THE TIMES, or the Town Major would, if asked, tell where the best quality comes from.

A Rich Prospect.

Parties in this city interested in the Cherry Creek mines feel confident they have the richest thing in the province. A letter received from there dated the 21st inst. states there has been much change in the shaft, those sinking it having run into a black, decomposed mixture of quartz. Mr. Morrison, the party writing, says: "I will endeavor to have it assayed soon as it is a peculiar mixture. I do not like to express an opinion about the mine for a few days, as I might make the mistake too often made by over sanguine men."
